National Anthem

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see,
By the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed
At the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
Thro' the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched,
Were so gallantly streaming.
And the rockets' red glare,
The bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
That our flag was still there.
Oh, say, does that star-spangled
Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
And the home of the brave?

— Francis Scott Key

Alma Mater

GLORY LA SALLE

Above Explorers valiant,
Here under thine eyes,
Thy blue and gold banners
Unfurl 'neath the skies!

Chorus:

La Salle, La Salle, thy glory,
Thy triumphs we praise!
Thy name in song forever
Shall we proudly raise!

Thy sons and daughters standing
Await thy command,
Thou fortress of faith
In our God and our land!

Chorus:

La Salle, La Salle, thy glory,
Thy triumphs we praise!
Thy name in song forever
Shall we proudly raise!

— Daniel J. Rodden

Honorary Degrees

Timothy T. O'Toole, Esq., C.B.E., '77

Doctor of Humane Letters

Presented by

Brother Gerard Molyneaux, F.S.C., Ph.D., '58

Professor, Communication

Timothy T. O'Toole, Esq., C.B.E., '77, became Managing Director of London Underground Ltd., the oldest metropolitan railway in the world, in 2003. He was recognized as an honorary Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (C.B.E.) by Queen Elizabeth II for his leadership in coordinating the evacuation of passengers and station staff in the aftermath of terrorist attacks on London's "Tube" public transit system in July 2005.

O'Toole graduated maxima cum laude from La Salle University in 1977, earning his degree in English Literature. He went on to earn a law degree from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law in 1980.

Prior to his work in London, O'Toole held several management positions at Consolidated Rail Corporation (Conrail) in Philadelphia. He began as a corporate and commercial attorney for Conrail in 1980. In 2001, he retired as the corporation's President and Chief Executive Officer after Conrail's sale.

After leaving Conrail, O'Toole assumed leadership positions in two nonprofit organizations in which he had been active for many years. He served as Chairman of the $2 million Capital Campaign for the Support Center for Child Advocates, a pro-bono effort that represents abused children in the courts, and as Finance Chairman for the Metropolitan Area YMCA of Philadelphia.

O'Toole was recruited in 2003 to lead the operation and rehabilitation of the London Underground, which is responsible for transporting 3 million passengers daily. In his second year on the job, the Tube set an all-time record for passenger and service volume and posted the highest-ever passenger satisfaction scores.

O'Toole and his wife, Patricia, have two children, Charlie and Elizabeth.

Buntzie Ellis Churchill

Doctor of Humane Letters

Presented by

Cornelia A. Tsakiridou, Ph.D.

Associate Professor, Philosophy and Director, Diplomat-in-Residence Program

After 40 years at the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia and 23 years as its President, Buntzie Ellis Churchill will leave the organization in June 2006. Prior to her election as President in 1983, Churchill served as the Council's Director of Student and Teacher Programs, Program Director, and Executive Director.

A 1961 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with a degree in political science and international relations, Churchill is active in numerous local and national organizations. She is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations in New York, a Trustee of Drexel University, and a member of the Advisory Committee for the University of Pennsylvania Center for Bioethics. For 10 years, she was heard daily on WFLN-FM interviewing experts on international issues.

Under Churchill's leadership, the Council has tripled its budget, doubled its membership, increased contributions from both members and corporations, and created an endowment. It is considered one of the top 10 public policy forums in the United States.

Specifically, the World Affairs Council is a 3,500-member nonprofit, non-partisan organization dedicated to informing citizens on national and international political, economic, and security issues. It provides education, discourse, and information resources to audiences throughout the region and has brought a number of high-profile speakers to Philadelphia, including President Bush, Margaret Thatcher, Bono, Don Rather, and Jack Welch.

In honor of Churchill's service, the Council will establish The Churchill Forum, a program that will include an annual speaker series featuring world-renowned leaders, an extension of the use of technology and new media in delivering the Council's programs to a wider audience, and a leadership project for students, with a special emphasis on high school girls.

Churchill has two adult children, Eric and Eva.

DOCTOR OF PSYCHOLOGY IN CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY

Chanelle Tiffani Bishop

B.S., Saint Joseph's University, 2000, Psychology
M.S., St. Joseph's University, 2001, Experimental Health Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2003, Clinical Psychology

Bishop is currently completing her clinical internship at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center (CCHMC) in pediatric and child clinical psychology. She provides assessment, consultation, and treatment among a pediatric population using cognitive behavioral treatments. Specifically, she is gaining specialized training in pain intervention and in-patient consultation/liaison, in addition to behavioral pediatrics and child clinical experiences. Bishop's research interests and involvement at CCHMC include working with children and their families coping with medical illness with a specific interest in pain management and prevalent medical conditions among ethnic minority populations (i.e., pediatric sickle cell disease, obesity). She has presented at national psychology conferences and will be presenting at the upcoming Child Mental Health Conference, National Conference on Child Health Psychology, and the 29th annual meeting of the National Sickle Cell Disease Program in 2006. Bishop's Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Erin O'Hea, Ph.D., is entitled, "Somatic Complaints in Adolescents: The Role of Parental Involvement and Delinquency." She is looking forward to continuing a career in pediatric psychology.

Mary Grace Brownsberger

B.A., Marymount University, 1999, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2003, Clinical Psychology

Brownsberger is currently completing her clinical internship at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City. She provides rehabilitation and neuropsychological assessment and treatment to adult survivors of spinal cord injury, brain injury, and other complex medical conditions in both in-patient and out-patient hospital settings. Brownsberger has presented at two national psychology conferences in 2003 and 2006. She currently sits on the Executive Board of the Rehabilitation Psychology Division of the American Psychological Association as Student Representative. She has been listed in Who's Who of American Women since 1998 and is a member of the Psi Chi and Delta Epsilon Sigma honor societies. She was a recipient of the Bob Eigenbrode Memorial Education Award from the Pennsylvania Psychological Association in 2003 and the National Psychologist Trainee Register Award from the National Register of Health Services Providers in Psychology in 2005. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Kevin Riley, Ph.D., is entitled, "Community Integration Outcomes in Physical Rehabilitation: An Exploratory Meta-Analysis."

Victoria Suzanne Clark

B.A., Swartmore College, 1977, Psychology
M.A., University of Connecticut, 1982, Human Development and Family Relations

Clark is currently completing her clinical internship at Foundations Behavioral Health in Doylestown, Pa. She provides individual, group, and family therapy and assessment services to children and adolescents on in-patient and out-patient units, as well as professional consultation to direct service staff. She presented the results of her dissertation research at the American Psychological Association Convention in August 2005. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Frank Gardner, Ph.D., is entitled, "Early Maladaptive Schemas and Adult Attachment Classification: An Integration of Cognitive and Attachment Theories."

Denise Jacqueline Frost

B.A., Pennsylvania State University, 1973, Social Science
M.A., Montclair State College, 1978, Educational Psychology
M.Ed., Temple University, 1985, School Psychology

Frost is currently completing her clinical internship at Seton Hall University in South Orange, N.J. She provides psychological treatment and assessment to young adults, as well as workshops, program development, and outreach in the college community. She is a nationally certified School Psychologist and a licensed Psychologist in the state of Pennsylvania. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Cynthia Turk, Ph.D., is entitled, "Worry and Inattention as Predictors of Test Anxiety and Standardized Test Performance in Junior High and High School Students."

Brian V. Gallagher

B.A., La Salle University, 1997, Psychology and Spanish

M.A., La Salle University, 2004, Clinical Psychology

Gallagher is currently completing his clinical internship at Trinitas Hospital in Elizabeth, N.J. He provides psychological treatment and assessment to children, adolescents, and adults and conducts educational workshops, program development, and outreach in local schools and businesses. He has presented his research at various national psychology conferences and most recently presented his dissertation at a symposium during the American Psychological Association convention in August 2005. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Frank Gardner, Ph.D., is entitled, "An Examination of the Relationship between Early Maladaptive Schemas and Response to Athletic Injury."

Stephen J. Haran

B.A., City University of New York, 1997, Psychology

M.A., John Jay College of Criminal Justice, 1999, Forensic Psychology

Haran developed and taught La Salle's first-ever offering of Introduction to Forensic Psychology. In addition to his doctoral work, he spearheaded the development of Trinitas Hospital's Juvenile Sexual Offender Program, a nationally recognized, community-based treatment program for adolescent sexual abusers. He has presented the program at many local and national conferences. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Brother Joseph Burke, F.S.C., Ph.D., is entitled, "A Predictive Validity Study of the Juvenile Risk Assessment Scale," and has tremendous implications due to the fact that the instrument may be used to determine level of risk and community notification for adolescent sexual offenders in New Jersey. At present, he is completing his internship at Westchester Jewish Community Services in White Plains, N.Y.

Elyssa Stein Kushner

B.A., Yeshiva University, 2000, Psychology

M.A., La Salle University, 2004, Clinical Psychology

Kushner is currently completing her clinical internship at Montefiore Medical Center, the Hospital of Albert Einstein College of Medicine in the Bronx, N.Y. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Cynthia Turk, Ph.D., is entitled, "Focusing as a Treatment Intervention for Generalized Anxiety Disorder." She has given multiple research presentations at a national conference and spoken to audiences about eating disorders and smoking cessation. Her research and clinical interests are in the treatment of anxiety disorders, and she will pursue this work in the future.

Diane Menago

B.A., Lock Haven University, 1985, Special Education

M.A., La Salle University, 1994, Human Services Psychology

Menago completed her clinical internship at the Devereux Foundation in Philadelphia. She provides psychological and educational consulting services for children and adolescents with educational, emotional, and behavioral disorders. She is also responsible for the development and presentation of workshops and in-service courses for the Pennsylvania Department of Education and St. Joseph's University. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Frank Gardner, Ph.D., is entitled, "Understanding Rampage Mass Murders in the Public School System."

Casey O'Donnell

B.A., Lafayette College, 1994, English
M.A., La Salle University, 2002, Clinical Psychology

O'Donnell is currently completing his clinical internship at the Fifth Avenue Center for Counseling and Psychotherapy in New York City. He has multiple publications in the area of trauma and treatment for trauma-related stress disorders. Most recently, he contributed a book chapter on Cognitive Behavioral Treatment for Post-traumatic Stress Disorder and Substance Abuse Disorders. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Kevin Riley, Ph.D., is entitled, "Effects of Post-traumatic Stress Disorder, Alcohol Use, and Depression on Relationship Aggression in World War II Former Prisoners of War."

Eugene Joseph Paciarelli Jr.

B.A., Loyola College in Maryland, 1999, Psychology and Philosophy
M.S., Loyola College in Maryland, 2001, Clinical Psychology

Paciarelli is currently completing his clinical internship at Spring Grove Hospital Center in Baltimore, Md. He provides psychological treatment and evaluation services for court-mandated forensic in-patients. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Kevin Riley, Ph.D., is entitled, "Predicting the Length of In-patient Hospitalization: Critical Cognitive, Functional, and Illness Variables." His interests include national security and defense, forensic psychology, clinical hypnosis, and foreign languages.

Jeffrey Lewis Palmer

B.S., Lafayette College, 1999, Psychology
M.A., John Jay College of Criminal Justice, 2000, Forensic Psychology

Palmer is currently completing his clinical internship at Saint Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D.C. He provides individual and group psychological treatment and assessment to adults on both pre-trial and post-trial forensic units. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Frank Gardner, Ph.D., is entitled, "Experiential Avoidance in Adolescent Sexual Offenders: A Preliminary Study."

Jonathan A. Roberds

B.A., Muhlenberg College, 1995, Psychology
M.A., Immaculata University, 1997, Counseling Psychology

Roberds is currently completing his post-doctoral fellowship at Edison Court in Doylestown, Pa. He provides psychological treatment and assessment to adolescents within an inpatient treatment facility, as well as workshops and program development. Roberds has presented at a national psychology conference and will be presenting at the upcoming American Psychological Association Convention in August 2006. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Sharon Armstrong, Ph.D., is entitled, "The Effect of Interactive Metronome Training on Children with ADHD."

Francis A. Ronkowski

B.A., La Salle College, 1970, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 1992, Marriage and Family Therapy

Ronkowski is currently completing a post-doctoral fellowship at the University's Community Center for Counseling and Psychological Services, providing a range of services to two of the clinic's specialized populations: individuals with anger regulation difficulties and developmentally disabled individuals with psychosexual difficulties. His experiences of working for 31 years as a supervising probation officer in the Philadelphia court system and as a licensed marriage and family therapist have informed his dissertation and further research interests in domestic violence and its relationship to emotion regulation and family processes. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Pamela Alexander, Ph.D., is entitled, "Do Batterer Subtypes' Perceptions of Procedural Justice Predict Readiness to Change?"

Andrew P. Santanello

B.A., Manhattan College, 2001, Psychology and Religious Studies
M.A., La Salle University, 2003, Clinical Psychology

Santanello is currently completing his clinical internship in the Veterans' Affairs Maryland Health Care System. He provides group and individual psychological treatment, as well as assessment services to veterans. In addition to his clinical responsibilities, he is currently primary investigator of an investigation of the role of experiential avoidance in the relationship between anger and post-traumatic symptom severity in a sample of veterans receiving out-patient treatment for Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder. He is also an ad hoc reviewer for the Journal of Traumatic Stress. His Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Frank Gardner, Ph.D., is entitled, "Are There Empirically Supported Treatments for Anger? A Qualitative Review of the Efficacy of Interventions for Anger in Out-patient Populations."

Jaime Shannon Spinell

B.A., Ohio State University, 1999, Psychology
M.A., La Salle University, 2003, Clinical Psychology

Spinell is currently completing her pre-doctoral clinical internship at North Shore Long Island Jewish Medical Hospital in Glen Oaks, N.Y. She provides psychological treatment to adult and geriatric populations in both in-patient and out-patient settings. She has presented at national psychology conferences in the areas of clinical psychology and clinical health psychology. She is currently involved in a research project assessing doctors' knowledge of and practice with post-partum depression. Spinell's Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Frank Gardner, Ph.D., is entitled, "Experiential Avoidance, Psychological Distress, and Health-Related Quality of Life in Predicting Appointment Follow-up of Individuals Who Test Positive for Eye Disease"

Kristine Yvonne Sudol

B.S., Bloomsburg University, 1998, Psychology
M.S., Villanova University, 2000, Counseling Psychology

Sudol is currently completing her clinical internship at the Coatesville Veterans' Administration Medical Center in Coatesville, Pa. She provides psychological treatment and assessment, including individual and group psychotherapy, diagnostic evaluations, psycho-educational workshops and skills training, and program development. Currently, she is focusing her efforts on the recovery model for the seriously mentally ill, including the implementation of psychosocial rehabilitation principles within the SMI population at the medical center. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Ellen Halpern, Ph.D., is entitled, "The Relationship of Attachment Style, Sex-Role Orientation, and Depressive Symptomatology"

Linda Sue Traweck

B.A., University of Texas at San Antonio, 1987, Psychology

Traweck completed her internship at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania in November 2005. Her internship focused on working with an in-patient medical population and included experience in neuropsychological assessment and psychotherapy. Currently, she is participating in research related to neuropsychological outcomes of treatments for medical conditions including lung, heart, and Parkinson's diseases. She is in the process of writing a section for a medical textbook that will address neuropsychological outcomes of deep brain stimulation for patients with Parkinson's disease. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Ellen Halpern, Ph.D., is entitled, "Analysis of a Spanish Translated Version of the Penn Interactive Peer Play Scale in a New York Head Start Program: Establishing Equivalence." She presented her findings at a poster session at Head Start's National Research Conference in the summer of 2004.

Amy Parkinson Wells

B.S., University of Vermont, 1987, Professional Nursing

M.A., La Salle University, 2003, Clinical Psychology

Wells is currently completing her clinical internship at Temple-Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia. She provides psychological assessment and treatment to dually diagnosed psychiatric in-patients. Ongoing research includes substance abuse, malingering, and the connection between depression and heart disease. She presented at the American Psychological Association convention in August 2005 and will be presenting at the annual conventions of the College on Problems of Drug Dependence and the Pennsylvania Psychological Association in June 2006. Her Clinical Dissertation, chaired by Kevin Riley, Ph.D., is entitled, "Malingering Detection in Psychiatric In-patients: An Exploratory Study."

Notes on Academic Dress

The history of academic dress begins in the early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra to wear gowns. In England during the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess in apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a question whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been considered necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings used by medieval scholars. Hoods may have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skullcap. The cap was later displaced by a headdress similar to ones now recognized as "academic." European institutions continue to show great diversity in their specifications of academic dress. However, when American colleges and universities adopted a system of academic apparel a half-century ago, a code was devised for all to follow.

Gowns—The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, with the sleeve base hanging down in the traditional manner. The rear part of the sleeve's oblong shape is square cut and the front part has an arc cut away. It may be worn open or closed. The gown for the doctor's degree has bell-shaped sleeves and may be worn open or closed. Bachelor's and master's gowns have no trimmings, but the doctor's may be faced on the front with black or colored velvet and with three bars of the same across the sleeves. If color is used, it is the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains, and it matches the edging or binding of the hood.

Hoods—Hoods are lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The binding or edging of the hood is the color indicative of the subject to which the degree pertains, except that the doctor's cap may have its tassel of gold thread.

Caps—Mortarboards are generally worn as part of the academic costume. The long tassel fastened to the middle point of the cap's top is either black or the color appropriate to the subject. It is customary for degree candidates to wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and to shift them to the left when the degrees are awarded. This custom is in some respects a substitute for individual hooding.

For all academic purposes, including trimmings of doctors' gowns, edgings of hoods, and tassels of caps, the colors associated with the different subjects are as follows:

Agriculture – Maize	Medicine – Green
